

The transnational conference "Conversion of military brownfields: processes and perspectives" of the project "F.A.T.E. - From Army To Entrepreneurship" was held on 19th October in Trieste -Italy, Magazzino 26 Porto Vecchio with a large attendance. The conference provided local and regional administrations with useful tools for managing, planning and starting up the requalification processes of military brownfields into business support centres. During the morning session speakers provided an overview of the issues and significance related to the reconversion processes. Then the conference gave an overview of the advancement of transfer and rehabilitation stages in the partners' areas with the presentation of the local pilot action and of the main results by the Project Partners. For all participants the event was an important occasion to share experiences and to deepen the knowledge of dynamics and perspectives related to the conversion process of former military sites.
